Description: Lumiblues eyewear can provide sharper vision, limit eye-strain and aid sleep patterns by reducing the amount of high-energy blue light absorbed through our lenses. These frames are a necessity for anyone regularly using screens which emit this blue light – these include laptops, tablets, iPads and smartphones.

In addition to this, studies also show that blue light affects our hormone balance. Natural daylight induces production of serotonin and cortisol within our bodies, making us feel awake and active. During the day this is a welcome effect, however as evening approaches the blue light given off by computer screens and electronic devices can interrupt your sleep patterns and greatly disrupt your circadian rhythm.

Buy stylish blue light blocking glasses designed to protect your eyes from the negative effects of using laptops, tablets, iPads and smartphones.
